Priam Vineyards was founded in 1998 in the historic town of Colchester, CT by Gloria Priam and Gary Crump. In 2002, Priam Vineyards became a licensed farm winery, and opened to begin marketing their wines in April of 2003. Our 40 acre farm has 22 acres of grapes in production, with a breathtaking 35 mile view of the New England countryside. We benefit from the unique microclimate of the hills of New London County, just 15 miles from Long Island Sound, where we grow classic European varietals: Cabernet Franc, Cabernet Sauvignon, Gewurztraminer, Chardonnay, Riesling, Muscat and Merlot as well as French-American hybrids: Cayuga and St. Croix. Our climate is very similar to the Alsation region of Northern France and Germany, with rich gravelly soil similar to that of Graves, France. This combination along with the sloping hillside and constant breeze provide the perfect climate for these varietals.

Priam Vineyards has won over 48 International wine competition medals in their past six years as a winery. We presently produce 13 wines which are released at different times throughout the year.
